Bob,

These were in the scrapbook that Mom and I did and that I gave back to your father. Since there are a lot of pictures missing, I assumed you (and now maybe Jim) have pulled them. There was another smaller one (like the one of Elmer and his friend) but it isn't there anymore.

The one of Elmer sitting is very faint and when I scanned it I had to darken it. It is a strange picture which looks like two people sitting across from one another but I feel as though it really is Elmer on both sides. Do you agree? It is the background that makes it confusing.
